

Visiting on a weekly basis, we currently have two external counsellors who offer their support directly onsite to our students. This has proven to be an invaluable service within our mental health efforts.

Asa Burton is a CBT-qualified counsellor specific to neurodiversity at Greenbank. He is also a qualified teacher and SEND co-ordinator, with key experience in Autism, ADHD, and mental health. Asa also delivers training, workshops and consultancy advice to schools.

Rachel Hodges is a Southport-based, certified counsellor and a registered member of the BACP (British Association of Counselling and Psychotherapy). Rachel holds a Diploma in Counselling Children and Young People and works in schools across the area.

Internally, Tina Powsey is a certified counsellor and a registered member of the BACP and the ACC (Association of Christians in Counselling). Mrs Powsey holds a Diploma in Therapeutic Counselling and is also a SEND Teaching Assistant.
